Sixth Appellate District of Texas at Texarkana

No. 06-26-00093-CR

RONALD HOPKINS, Appellant

V.

THE STATE OF TEXAS, Appellee

On Appeal from the 71st District Court
Harrison County, Texas
Trial Court No. 21-0424X

Before Stevens, C.J., van Cleef and Rambin, JJ.
Memorandum Opinion by Chief Justice Stevens

MEMORANDUM OPINION

Ronald Hopkins pled guilty to indecency with a child by contact, a second-degree felony and, pursuant to a plea bargain with the State, was placed on deferred adjudication community supervision for ten years. The State alleged that Hopkins violated the terms and conditions of his community supervision by failing to successfully complete sex-offender counseling and being in the presence of minor children without a chaperone present. After an evidentiary hearing, the trial court found these allegations true, revoked Hopkins's deferred adjudication community supervision, and sentenced him to sixteen years' imprisonment. Hopkins appeals.

Hopkins's appellate counsel has filed a brief stating that she reviewed the record and found no genuinely arguable issues that could be raised on appeal. The brief sets out the procedural history of the case and summarizes the evidence elicited during the course of the trial court proceedings. Since appellate counsel has provided a professional evaluation of the record demonstrating why there are no arguable grounds to be advanced, that evaluation meets the requirements of Anders v. California. Anders v. California, 386 U.S. 738, 743–44 (1967); In re Schulman, 252 S.W.3d 403, 406 (Tex. Crim. App. 2008) (orig. proceeding); Stafford v. State, 813 S.W.2d 503, 509–10 (Tex. Crim. App. 1991); High v. State, 573 S.W.2d 807, 812–13 (Tex. Crim. App. [Panel Op.] 1978). Appellate counsel also filed a motion with this Court seeking to withdraw as counsel in this appeal.

On September 8, 2026, appellate counsel mailed to Hopkins copies of the brief, the motion to withdraw, and a motion for pro se access to the appellate record lacking only Hopkins's signature. Hopkins was informed of his rights to review the record and file a pro se response, which we informed him was due on or before September 23. By letter dated October 5, this Court informed Hopkins that the case would be set for submission on October 26. We received neither a pro se response from Hopkins nor a motion requesting an extension of time in which to file such a response.

We have determined that this appeal is wholly frivolous. We have independently reviewed the entire appellate record and, like appellate counsel, have determined that no arguable issue supports an appeal. See Bledsoe v. State, 178 S.W.3d 824, 826–27 (Tex. Crim. App. 2005). In the Anders context, once we determine that the appeal is without merit, we must affirm the trial court's judgment. Id.

We affirm the judgment of the trial court.[1]
